

What YOU Need to Know

in the first 20 days of a bankruptcy case

Presented by Bankruptcy Experts

Lynnette R. Warman, Esq., Hunton & Williams LLP
Cameron W. Kinvig, Esq., Hunton & Williams LLP

April 17, 2009

8:30 a.m. - registration

9:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m. - seminar

Have you ever asked yourself any of these questions?...

- Did I get notice of the bankruptcy filing in time to attend the first day hearing?
- Should I keep supplying goods to the bankrupt company?
- Do I need a lawyer?
- Conflicts with my normal firm?
- Am I a critical vendor?
- What do you mean I may not be able to get designated as a "critical vendor" for the first 20 days of the case?

... We have the answers for you!

This seminar will educate you on Creditor's Committees, how to choose the committee counsel and discover your rights if you do not get on the Creditor's Committee. Determine whether you can expect a cash payment immediately with the new 503 (b) (9) claims. Also, learn how to negotiate "critical vendor" status and protect yourself with a "reclamation" claim.
